Bob has over thirty years in the entertainment industry and over 400 film, theatre, and music credits, Bob has participated in almost every aspect of the film industry.

As an actor, Bob has been seen on the screen, in television series, movies of the week, and feature films. One film, "The Man With Three Wives", had an audience of 25 million viewers the first time it aired and over 20 million the next year. As a stunt man specializing in fights, falls and cars, Bob has been punched by Tommy Lee Jones, dropped by Jim Carrey, shot from the roof of a building, and rolled in a moving van off an exploding bridge.

Behind the camera, Bob has worked as a Producer and Director making short films, commercials, and video projects. Bob has directed the 2nd unit for "Mr. Atlas" one of HBO's top family shows for 1999. "A Boy Named Danger" is also one of Bob's 2nd unit Directing efforts.

"Crime Solvers" a local commercial series was a finalist in the New York Film Festival; Bob was the original Director and helped develop the project.
